

Environment & Sustainability Portfolio

Mary Jolland

I have planted the Cemetery mud pile with poppy and forget me not seeds.

I will seed the memorial garden edges soon.

The crocus in the memorial garden were spoiled by the snow and rabbits, the other bulbs are starting to appear with a few Daffodils flowering.

It would be nice to plant autumn bulbs, perhaps a socially distanced volunteer day!

I will do some litter picking now the weather is better and can offer loan of the equipment to anyone via the Facebook community page and the website.

Flooding has been a problem over winter, could we encourage all land and property owners to check and clear their own waterways and drains, along with reporting the council problems.
